Legislators Are Finishing Up Work Rapidly

Two Years Before New Fortification Work Will Be Completed

Col. S. W. Roessler, Chief of the U. S. Army Engineers for the Pacific Division, arrived here yesterday on the Korea and after a short time spent in consultation with Captain Otwell, drove over the Diamond Head reservation with that officer and will make an excursion to Pearl Harbor this afternoon. He stated this morning that the work of fortifying Honolulu would not be in such shape that the work would make any appreciable showing for six months and that it would take two years at the least before the fortification would be completed and ready to be turned over to the troops for occupation.

When interviewed by a Bulletin reporter, he said: "I have come down here under instructions from the Chief of Engineers, to consult with Captain Otwell on the matter of fortifications. I shall remain here for about a week, until the Mongolia sails, and in that time will have been able to do everything that I have come down here for."

"The work of building fortifications at Honolulu will take a long time, as the conditions which are to be dealt with are unusual. In the first place, the conditions here, being so far from the market where supplies can be obtained, will cause a great delay. Then the market for material is overloaded with orders. A great deal of the material needed, such as machinery, will have to be purchased in the East and the dealers have orders ahead so far that three months' factory delivery is doing very well indeed.

"The transportation problem is another one which causes some trouble. We can get no quick delivery here and any delivery is uncertain on account of the congestion of freight attendant on the San Francisco rush in building and other like matters.

The Value Of Confidence

In no line of business is the buyer's confidence of more importance than in the selling of clothing. The dealer who attempts to convince the buyer that his goods are the best, and that his place is the place where the best could be obtained, must see that the facts conform to his statements, and that his goods are in every way up to the standard. He had better never try to sell to a man than to mislead him or to exaggerate; for the customer will quickly discover such practice of misrepresenting merchandise.

There is never danger of a protest and always a certainty of full value received when a coat or suit is recognized as

which has the endorsement on the label.

WAYSON GETS HIS REAPPOINTMENT

Lane Fights Confirmation
Because Of Wallach
Affair

SENATE.

59th Day—Forenoon Session. The Senate had a lively session this forenoon. The principal fight was over the confirmation of the appointment of Dr. Wayson as a member of the Board of Health. Lane opposed this, stating that as a matter of principle he did not want Wayson reappointed as he had defied the Senate in the Wallach matter. Others, however, defended the doctor. They spoke of the members of the Board as poor, misguided and benighted mortals who thought they had erred, had at least acted according to their lights, such as they were. Some admitted that it was conceivable that the Senate might err. Wayson was given a glowing tribute by these speakers and his confirmation was carried without very great opposition.

Smith gave the Governor a tap on his characterizing the Senate as "lacking capacity" in one of his veto messages. He said that such remarks were absolutely uncalled for.

PINKHAM READY. President Pinkham of the Board of Health wrote acknowledging the receipt of the resolution, which asked the Board to relent towards Wallach. He stated that the Board would be ready to meet and hear anything which the Senators or others might have to say on the matter, between 4 and 8 p. m. at the Senate Chamber.

TO LUNCH WITH QUEEN. Queen Liliuokalani wrote inviting the Senate and its officers to attend a luncheon at her Waikiki place next Thursday. She congratulated the Legislature on the good work it had done. On motion by Smith the invitation was accepted with thanks.

VETO OVERRIDDEN. The Judiciary Committee reported on the veto of Senate Bill 10, relating to pounds, recommending its passage over the veto. Coello so moved. Kalaniana'olaha moved to defer. This was lost. The veto was overridden by a vote of 12.

OLD LOAN BILL FINALLY PASSES SENATE

House Bill 94, the medical bill, this afternoon passed second reading with some amendments. House Bill 215, making appropriations from the balance of the old loan fund, came up for third reading. Makekau moved to strike out the $3500 item for the completion of the Kailua-waena school. The motion was lost by a vote of 4 ayes and 10 noes. Knudsen moved to insert $5000 for wharves and landings and $5000 for school buildings on Kaula. Lost.

The bill passed third reading by a vote of 8 ayes and 10 noes.

Kalaniana'olaha offered a resolution providing for payment for the clerk for typewriting the minutes of the session at certain rates. Smith moved to refer it to the Accounts Committee.

Brown moved to reconsider the vote on the Lahaina profits bill. This carried, and he then moved to pass it on third reading. This carried.

House Bill 116, the teachers' pension bill, failed to pass third reading.

The House passed the Senate's Standard Oil bill this afternoon.

HOUSE OVERRIDES GRAB BILL VETO

Only Three Members
Dared To Oppose
The Measure

HOUSE

59th Day—Forenoon Session. The House is consistent in some things, anyway. When it starts out to boost salaries, it refuses to be turned aside from its course. The boost goes, if it takes a leg.

That's the way it was with the County salary act, fittingly labeled the "Grab Bill." True, the fact that the grab was so clearly pointed out by the press had some effect and some of the worst grabs were pared down before the House finally relinquished the bill to the Governor, but there still remained enough of them to make the bill deserve its odious title.

But the Governor vetoed the grab bill. The veto came down to the House this morning. And it took the House just about five minutes to override that veto. There were only three members who cared enough or had backbone enough to vote against the motion to override. Speaker Holstein and Representatives Long and Rawlins were the ones who went on record as being opposed to the grab.

When the House came together this morning there was a bunch of five vetoes staring it in the face, these being the principal business on the calendar. Another veto came down from the Governor during the morning. However, final action was taken on only two of them, the vetoes of the grab bill and of the Senate bill appropriating money for the preservation of the remains of the Kings and chiefs of Hawaii being overridden. The others were all postponed until this afternoon or tomorrow.

Before recess was taken, the Latest Arrival Is Candidate Of Accomplishments

Several have asked about the new entry in the list of those contesting to represent Hawaii—Miss Kawainui, who first appeared in the third count with a healthy lot of votes to her credit.

It was not long to wait to learn of the young lady's accomplishments. Incidentally she is the daughter of a man who was a leading factor in Hawaii's welfare during his life. One of Miss Kawainui's friends sends in the following letter:

Editor Evening Bulletin: — Enclosed you will find sixteen votes for Miss Lydia Kawainui.

This young lady will be a great credit to Hawaii, for she possesses a religious character, good education, and can sing as well as Mrs. Alapai, who advertised Hawaii on the mainland last year.

During Miss Kawainui's attendance at the Normal School she was one of the leading sopranos there, and also of the Kawaihau choir, her voice being cultivated by the noted singing teacher, Mrs. Anna B. Tucker, is strong, touching and extremely melodious; in fact, she has all the accomplishments that will surely enable her to advertise Hawaii.

People on the mainland like to hear Hawaiian songs; therefore we must send those who can warble them.

It would be a good thing if the Lucky Six would give a concert in each city they would visit. Miss Kawainui and Miss Saffrey are willing to do this.

Yours truly,
A PROTECTOR FOR HAWAII.

Among the passengers to sail for the Coast yesterday on the China was B. F. Dillingham of this city. He is on a business trip to San Francisco and expects to be back in four weeks unless compelled to go East by some unexpected happening.

LAWYERS LEAVE CITY

Attorneys E. B. McClanahan and S. H. Derby are winding up their legal business in this city and preparing to leave for San Francisco. They will probably go to the Coast early in the coming Fall. Both these attorneys are members of the firm of Kinney, McClanahan & Derby and have occupied a prominent position among the legal fraternity of this city, particularly in cases which involve admiralty affairs.

When asked in reference to his plans this afternoon Mr. McClanahan said: "For some time I have been thinking of going to the Coast on account of the fact that I have found that a colder climate will be better for my family and, as I have been offered very good inducements to go to San Francisco, I have decided to accept and will go in the Fall. Mr. Derby has decided to accompany me and we will be associated in business there as we have been here."

"We are now closing up all the legal business that we have on our hands and took the last new suit in which we will take part here, on Saturday. After this we will devote all our attention to winding up the business which we have on hand."

E. B. McClanahan is one of the best known lawyers in Honolulu and was recently candidate on the Democratic ticket for Delegate to Congress, being defeated by Prince Kuhio. He has acted as attorney for a number of large firms in this city and as a corporate lawyer has few equals in this city.

S. H. Derby is perhaps the best known among the younger attorneys of the city and is also the second judge of the District Court, taking Judge Whitney's place when he is away. He has a large personal acquaintance in the city and in a legal way is said to be among the best in the Territory. His specialty is admiralty cases and he has achieved a first class reputation in this line.

WHEN YOU'RE HURT HOW ABOUT THE BILL?

This great question confronts nearly every man of moderate means. — "If I should get injured how would my wife and children live?" And the man who is wise and far-seeing answers: "On my policy in the Standard Life and Accident Insurance Co., which is my best friend."

Few men, indeed, can afford to be without such a policy. It is on the same principle as "in times of peace prepare for war."
